The Kent and East Sussex Branch of the Utility Gundog Society have arranged for Animal Aiders to teach a First Aid Course at Grovelands Farm, Biddenden by kind permission of Roger and Sheila Wade.

Animal Aiders is a limited company of veterinary professionals, who travel the country holding First Aid Courses, which give the attendees the most up to date and scientifically based information regarding Dog First Aid. For further details, please visit their website: www.animalaiders.co.uk

The Course offers you:-

- Up to date techniques taught by a Veterinary Professional
- High quality replica dogs to practice bandaging on
- A 'resusci-dog' to practice canine CPR
- Samples of first aid equipment to practice with
- Comprehensive course booklet to take home
- Certificate of Attendance

The Course aims to support the Kennel Club Accreditation Scheme for Instructors in Dog Training and Canine Behaviour and is recognised by the National Association of Registered Canine Hydrotherapists.

Places will be limited on the First Aid Course, so please book your place as soon as possible.

Cost for First Aid Course, Lunch and Afternoon Training £60

Cost for First Aid Course and Lunch £45
